

INDIANS WILL DO THEIR THING at Gallup, N.M., when the Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial presents its 48th annual exposition of American Indian dances, crafts, sports and street parades. A unique and successful mutual effort in racial relations, the ceremonial has teamed the managerial skills of a civic association with the performing talents of hundreds of Indians proud of their traditional civilization. This year's presentation will be Aug. 14-17.

Aged Widow Who Fought Weather Navy to Save Town Accepts $1 Million

PORT CHICAGO, Calif. (AP) — An 80-year-old widow battled the U.S. Navy for years to save her town, but now it's all over. Eunice Van Winkle accepted a government check for more than $1 million Thursday and made plans to move.

Her quiet acceptance of the money contrasted sharply with the legal and civic battles Mrs. Van Winkle had fought over the years.

She had at one time owned most of the property in the town, near San Francisco on Suisun Bay, once the home of 3,350 people.

The Navy condemned the entire town last year to create a two-mile buffer zone around its Concord Naval Weapons Station, where a World War II ammunition explosion killed 322 persons and caused $40 million in damage.

All the men are being held under guard at Long Binh, the big Army headquarters outside Saigon. None has made any statement.

A U.S. Army spokesman denied a rumor that the eight men had been transferred to a Green Beret base in Thailand.

Under the Uniform Code of Military Justice, all are entitled to military and civilian lawyers for the investigation process now under way. A civilian attorney for Middleton is due in Saigon Saturday from South Carolina, but military authorities would say nothing about representation for the other men.

One Scientist Says May Be Life on Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — There is a possibility life could exist on Mars, a scientist who studied data from Mariner 7 says.

Other scientists say they have seen no evidence so far to support such a belief.

Dr. George C. Pimentel, a University of California chemist, told a news conference Thursday that a Mariner 7 instrument detected ammonia and methane near the red planet's south polar cap.

"We have to face the possibility they could be of biological origin," he said.

Ammonia and methane are found in living things on earth but also can be produced by volcanic action. Experts say they have found no sign of volcanism on Mars.

Pimentel was on a panel of experts who discussed findings radioed to earth by Mariner 7

Says Kennedy Asked Cousin to Take Rap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Columnist Jack Anderson says Sen. Edward M. Kennedy asked his cousin, Joseph Gargan, "to take the rap" for driving the car in which a young secretary drowned.

In his copyrighted column today, Anderson said Gargan "grimly said he would admit to driving the car."

"In the cold light of dawn, Kennedy decided to face the consequences himself, and then he filed his terse statement with the Edgartown police at 10 a.m.," said Anderson, who co-authors the column with Drew Pearson.

The Washington Post quoted Gargan as saying in Hyannis Port, Mass., there was "no truth whatsoever" to Anderson's story.

Anderson, attributing his story to "reliable sources" and Kennedy "intimates," said the senator had invited Mary Jo Kopechne to go for a midnight swim the night the car went off a narrow bridge.

The columnist described the swim as "a nocturnal adventure not uncommon on Martha's Vineyard."

"Nor are these summer night swims necessarily viewed as evidence of immoral conduct," Anderson added. He said Kennedy knew where he was going but the car was going too fast and went off into the water.

Texas Oilman Withdrawn as Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has withdrawn his nomination of John G. Hurd, Texas oilman, as ambassador to Venezuela after Hurd said he wanted to avoid the appearance of conflict of interest.

The White House said Nixon saw no conflict between Hurd's oil interests and the appointment, but that the President accepted with regret Hurd's request that the nomination be withdrawn.

"While it is clear to me that no real conflict of interest would be involved in my appointment as ambassador," Hurd said in a letter to the President, "it has become equally clear that to some persons the appearance of such a conflict does exist."

"Such an appearance of conflict could be destructive of public confidence in my appointment and could impair my effectiveness as a representative of the United States," Hurd wrote.

The appointment had been protested by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who argued that "to send an oil protectionist to Caracas is like sending a Zionist to Cairo."

creased enemy initiated activity.

"We are catching him on sweeps," the spokesman said. "We may be catching him before he gets ready to do something. Several of the actions were initiated by allied forces. I'd hate to characterize it as increased enemy-initiated action. It's too early to be specific about the significance."

Other U.S. officers said they see no indication that North Vietnamese troops are massing along the demilitarized zone for a large-scale attack, despite the heaviest fighting there in more than two months.

U.S. troops battled North Vietnamese forces Thursday at three points within a 10-mile area just south of the central DMZ. The U.S. Command reported 82 North Vietnamese and eight Americans killed and 24 Americans wounded.

At least three North Vietnamese companies of more than 100 men each were involved in the fighting, military spokesmen said.

The fighting along the DMZ was triggered by infantrymen from the U.S. 5th Mechanized Division and troops from the U.S. 3rd Marine Division who flushed out three North Vietnamese companies they didn't know were in the area.

But officers at the 3rd Marine headquarters in Dong Ha said there is no indication yet that the North Vietnamese are increasing their forces along the DMZ or massing for any sizable assault into South Vietnam.

The Marine officers declined to estimate the strength of the North Vietnamese army below the DMZ, but they said it is not substantial. They said intelligence indicates that four North Vietnamese regiments—a maximum of 12,000 men—are in the northern half of the DMZ or just to the north of the zone in North Vietnam. This is a night's march away from South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Another Moon Shot by the Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched an unmanned spacecraft today on a journey to photograph and study the moon and nearby lunar space but gave no indication a soft landing was planned.

The last Soviet moon probe, Luna 15, crashed on the lunar surface just before the U.S. Apollo 11 astronauts landed in the Sea of Tranquility July 20.

Zond 7, the new Soviet craft was lofted into a parking orbit around the earth by "a powerful Soviet carrier rocket" and then was launched toward the moon, the news agency Tass said.

Tass said that in addition to making lunar studies and photographs Zond 7 would test "improved on-board systems and the design of the rocket-space complex." The agency did not go into specifics.

Moscow has said previously that its unmanned Zond series was partly designed to put men on the moon eventually.

The flight to the moon usually takes 3½ days. If Zond 7 follows this pattern, it should be near the moon by Monday or Tuesday.

The Soviet Union usually holds back much information about its space shots until after their flights are completed. Then it discloses only those parts of the mission which were successful and hides parts which failed.

Some previous Zond experiments have involved interplanetary missions, two of which are known in the west to have failed.

Zond 1 made an unsuccessful attempt to reach Venus in 1964 and Zond 2 failed en route to Mars in 1965.

Zond 3 was the first success in the program. It took television pictures of the back side of the moon in August 1965 and transmitted them back to earth. Then it went on into orbit around the sun.

Zond 4, launched in March 1966, apparently failed in some aboard 800 rail cars for a watery grave in the Atlantic. Under pressure from Congress, the Army heard recommendations from the National Academy of Sciences and has decided it can, after all, dispose of much of the gas surplus on land.

Finally, a leaky GB gas weapon which exposed 24 men to possible death forced an acknowledgment from the Pentagon last month that U.S. gas weapons are stored on Okinawa and other overseas areas. West Germany has reported officially it has depots with American chemical weapons—but no germ bombs—on German soil.

While Laird has said he wants the chemical stocks maintained, he does question whether all is being done to insure the safety of population centers near major chemical stores. He has requested, and is getting, a National Security Council review of the whole CBW program.

Pentagon authorities told a reporter the Soviet Union today possesses a stockpile of chemical weapons five to eight times as large as the United States.

Further, the Soviets have stated on several occasions that the next wide-scale war would include all forms of weapons, chemical and biological included.

Chemical agents in the U.S. stockpile range from tear gases like those used by police for riot control—CS, CN, DM—to incapacitants that put men in a blank-faced stupor—BZ—to death-upon-contact nerve agents—VX.

The United States also has spent $100 million for herbicides and defoliants for use in Vietnam to kill crops and vegetation.

The standard U.S. nerve gas is said to be GB or Sarin, which kills man by inhibiting cholinesterase, the enzyme that relaxes muscular contraction.

There is also the older GA or Tabun nerve gas, a bit less potent, which the Soviets also began stockpiling after they seized a German poison factory in World War II.

The United States has experimented extensively with psychochemicals or incapacitants such as LSD-25 and BZ but has not developed one good enough to be a standard weapon.

In addition to the G types, the Army has a V series which, though not more deadly than the regular nerve gases, has the military advantage of poisoning their victims through the skin, rendering gas masks useless.

Woman Is Found Dead at Clinton

CLINTON, Ark. (AP)—Police said today that Mrs. Beil Jones, 82, who lived three miles west of the Alred community north-west of here, was found dead type of moon mission. A Soviet announcement when it was launched said it was intended to study "outlying regions of near-earth space," but Moscow never mentioned it again and its fate has not been disclosed.

The presence of turtles and insects aboard Zond 5 last year suggested that the latest probe in this series might also have living creatures aboard.

Zond 6, the second of the two round-the-moon-and-back shots last year, also carried "biological objects" but these were not identified.

The Soviet Union recently has concentrated on unmanned flights of what it calls "automatic space stations."

Its only manned space flight so far this year was the docking in earth orbit in January of the Soyuz 4 and 5 spaceships.

The Soviet Union has not achieved a manned space flight breakthrough since March 1965, when cosmonaut Alexei Leonov achieved man's first spacewalk.

Nixon, West German Head to End Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger, who wind up two days of private talks here today, stressed the bonds between the two nations at a White House dinner Thursday night.

In a champagne toast, Nixon emphasized the importance of the United States and the Federal Republic of Germany having "the closest relations."

"Our recognizing that the survival of the Federal Republic as a strong and vital country in the heart of Europe is important in the highest degree to the survival of freedom in Europe and in the world," Nixon said.

Kiesinger said his country was indebted to the United States "and to many of those gathered at this dinner party who have made historic contributions over the past 20 years."

"We believe that the wise and determined policies of these 20 years and the efforts of the North Atlantic Alliance have secured the peace and freedom of our nation," Kiesinger said.

about midnight Thursday.

Her body was found under some hay in a shed by Van Buren County Sheriff Jake Williams. Cause of the death was not known.

Roadblocks were set up in the area and police were searching for a man described in his mid 20s with dark curly hair and needing a shave.

Says Theater Talk Greater Than Ever

There is more talk and discussion about motion pictures today than there has been in many years, according to Mrs. Henry Seaman's manager of Hope's Theatres. There is a great debate and soul searching going on as to the type of pictures being brought to the public.

"We have explored this topic from all angles—discussed it with picture makers and movie goers, young and old," said Mrs. Seaman. "We find the 18 year old of today has a different viewpoint and standards of their own. Many pictures that offended the middle aged are accepted by the younger generation as normal, and they see nothing offensive. In their vernacular 'it tells it like it is'."

"Movie producers, like any other businesses, make what the public buys. Therefore, as long as the public buys adult movies—that is what they are going to make. We can remember back in the late 30s, when the public idolized Shirley Temple and formed lines blocks long as any theatre where her pictures were shown. Result—movie makes made kiddie movies and child stars—as witness at that time Judy Garland, Edith Fellows, Jane Withers, Jean Parker, Donald O'Connor, Margaret O'Brien, Baby Jane, and many others. There are no child stars today—only because the public doesn't want them. However, a few big hits for family pictures and other producers would copy, and we would have child stars again. All we need are a few the pub-and they will be joined later this weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Carr and two children of Amarillo, Tex.

Family entertainment—or adult entertainment, we're offering both—take your choice. When you attend the movies you know in advance what you can expect—when you turn on your TV you never know until you have already seen it, or your children have," concluded the local theatre head.

THOUGHTS

There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy habitation of the Most High.—Psalms 46:4.

To reach the port of heaven we must sail, sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must sail, not drift or lie at anchor.—Oliver Wendell Holmes, American poet and essayist.

Owe no one anything, except to love one another; for he who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law.—Romans 13:8.

Love is never lost. If not reciprocated, it will flow back and soften and purify the heart.—Washington Irving, American essayist and historical writer.

THE END OF THE AFFAIR

Dear Helen: I am a married woman of 40 who just ended an affair with our "friendly neighborhood bachelor." I didn't realize he was called this until I heard some of the women kidding about him at the beauty parlor.

Now I remember back to the times he referred to my friends in a personal way, and the one time, after four cocktails, when he admitted having affairs with several of these "lonely dames."

Of course, I didn't include myself in that category then, but now — will he brag about me to his next?

If my husband finds out he will kill me, but if he hears about it from others, it will be twice as bad. Should I keep quiet and suffer or confess and perhaps get kicked out? —NEVER AGAIN

Dear Never Again: If your husband had an affair — and ended it — you'd be far happier never having known, right? So, repent and suffer. The worry about being caught may keep you doubly straight. —H.

Dear Helen: I wish I could impress upon wives who have been married long enough to have the glitter wear off, how important it is to get out the polishing cloth and shine it up again. They don't know how close they come to losing their good, dependable husbands by taking them too much for granted.

I work as a masseuse, am in my 50s, have grey hair and need to lose ten more pounds. Yet men come into the salon in their late 30s to late 50s, just to get pampered by the soft touch of a woman's hand on their brow and a sympathetic ear to hear their problems.

They tell me how lucky my husband is and when I tell them I have no husband, I get various invitations. Sometimes I'm tempted, but so far I've resisted. But I keep wondering, what's the matter with wives, anyway? Most men aren't confirmed chasers. They are just darn lonely guys who don't get much attention at home.

No doubt wives feel mistreated too, but if they'd try a little harder, stop turning first to the children or their outside activities, they'd find far more romantic men coming home to them. —H.F.

Dear Helen: Isn't it terrible what they allow on TV any more? I mean half-nude females advertising all kinds of household things like cottage cheese and cars. And the programs are absolutely obscene. The things they say! Why don't you start a campaign to make TV more moral? —NOT A PRUDE

Dear Not: Sorry, I see very little immorality in television. What the medium needs is more truth and less censorship, but then perhaps that's why TV is called a medium — as they say, it's too often neither rare nor well-done. —H.

Dear Helen: I have a son in the Coast Guard. Most people don't even know what the Coast Guard is or does. They think it is something like the National Guard.

My husband doesn't even recognize our son as being in the military. Maybe you could remind people that the C.G. is definitely a branch of the service — a fine one — and should be considered as such.

Our country might not survive without it! —MRS. B.R.

Dear Mrs. R.: I'll be glad to, as I have had several letters recently reminding me I haven't mentioned the Coast Guard when I praised various branches of the Service. Sorry about that! —H.

Allen Has Scalps of 2 Managers

By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Richie Allen, controversial slugger for the Philadelphia Phillies, has the scalps of two managers to his credit.
Bob Skinner, grim-faced and his voice cracking at times, resigned Thursday after 14 months at the club's helm because of what he called lack of front office support in dealing with the moody Allen.
Coach George Myatt, 54, in his sixth year with the Phillies, was named temporary manager for the remainder of the season.
Gene Mauch, whom Skinner had succeeded in June, 1968, was fired after he benched Allen.
"Now I know what Gene Mauch went through," Skinner said, biting off each word as the club's boss—owner Bob Carpenter and General Manager John Qulnan—stood silently to one side at a news conference.
Skinner, visibly shaken, also revealed that he had learned that a fine he had imposed on Allen for missing two games in New York in June had been remitted by Carpenter.
Allen could not be reached for comment.
The first baseman, who earns a reported $80,000 a year, did not show up later Thursday night in Reading for an exhibition game between the Phillies and their Eastern League farm team.
The 37-year-old Skinner, a tall, dedicated man who believes in giving 100 per cent to the game he loves, said "a few days ago Allen came to me and told me the front office told him he didn't have to go to Reading with the team for tonight's game."

East All-Star Coach Ribbed by Others

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Charles Eagle, head coach of the East All-Star basketball team, has been taking a ribbing this week for labelling Caldwell Jones of Desha Central a "definite college prospect."
"At least a dozen coaches have said I really went out on a limb, calling Caldwell a 'definite college prospect,'" Eagle says. "Let's straighten that out. He's an outstanding college prospect."
Jones, a 6-foot-11 youngster, will be the key man in the East's attack in the High School All-Star game Saturday afternoon at Barton Coliseum in Little Rock.
"He's no miracle man," says Eagle. "He's not a Chamberlain or a Russell or anything like that, but I've seen him all week and he can go."
"I hope he has a good game," says Eagle. "He's a good kid, and he's got an awful lot of pressure on him."
Here is how Eagle assesses Jones, who is headed for Albany State:
"He moves good for a boy that size. He rebounds good and he shoots pretty good. He gets off the ground good. We've got boys that have better spring, but you've got to remember he doesn't have as far to go."
"He's strictly for the team. He's not a gunner at all. I think he's going to be a fine one. He will probably be one of the best college players ever to come out of Arkansas."
Jones has also impressed Jim Rackley, the West's head coach. "I saw him in one game of the Class B state tournament and he looked great to me at that time," says Rackley. "But, many people tell me he's come a long way since then."

Pirates and Padres Break the Rules

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
It is written in baseball's good book, right there with the game's other axioms—Thou Shalt Not Walk The Pitcher. About the only thing worse than violating that rule is breaking the other one—Thou Shalt Not Let The Pitcher Hit A Home Run.
The San Diego Padres and Pittsburgh Pirates broke the rules and paid the price in the National League's only games Thursday night.
San Diego dropped a 2-1 decision to St. Louis—the winning run scoring after Cardinal pitcher Mike Torrez had drawn a walk. Los Angeles thumped the Pirates 6-0 with pitcher Claude Osteen socking 2 home runs.
In the American League, Baltimore whacked Kansas City 10-2, Oakland dropped Cleveland 3-0, Detroit nipped Minnesota 6-4 and Boston edged Seattle 5-4.
The Padres and Cardinals were tied 1-1 when Mike Shannon opened the fifth inning with an infield out and reached third on a wild pitch.
Then Torrez walked and Lou Brock followed with the sacrifice fly that gave the Cardinals their deciding run.
Shannon had tripled Bill White across in the second inning and Al Ferrara's 11th homer had tied it for the Padres in the second.
Torrez pitched a five-hitter for his seventh victory of the season and the Cards' fourth straight complete game. Al Santorini, who broke the rule, took the loss.
Osteen won his 15th game with a five-hitter and hurled his fifth shutout of the season but it's more likely that he'll remember the hitting he did against the Pirates.

Shuvee Seeks to Be Queen of Fillies

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Shuvee, her string of four straight fight stakes triumphs snapped in the Delaware Oaks July 26, will resume her fight to become queen of the 3-year-old fillies Saturday in the 89th running of the Alabama at Saratoga.
But the major rival to Mrs. Whitney Stone's filly, Gallant Bloom, will be absent from the 1 1/4-mile, $50,000-added Alabama. Due to a mixup, the King Ranch runner was not nominated.
Expected to give Shuvee, assigned 124 pounds, her toughest competition, are Christiana Stable's Pit Bunny, who beat Gallant Bloom to the wire in Delaware Oaks but was then placed second because of a foul, and John Winnett Jr.'s and E. Barry Ryan's Hall to Patsy.
Two $50,000-added stakes also are on tap for 3-year-old colts—the 1 1/4 mile Minuteman at Liberty Bell and the one-mile Towlers Handicap at Arlington Park. Claiborne Farm's Jay Ray, the California Derby winner and third the Preakness, and Ogden Phipps' King of the Castle, the winner of the Louisiana and Illinois derbies, Jay Ray will carry 119 pounds and King of the Castle 118.

Travs Take Early Lead, Protect It

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Arkansas jumped to a 4-2 lead and protected it behind the pitching of Dave Bakenhaster and reliever Tim Thompson to hand Shreveport its fifth straight loss here Thursday night.
The Travellers tallied three times in the fourth inning off loser Tony King, 4-8, Gaylen Pitts opened with a walk and Bob Guindon followed with a single.
Pitts went to third on a passed ball and scored on the catcher's subsequent throwing error. Danny Napoleon followed with a single to send Guindon to third and he scored on an infield grounder.
Manuel Abreau's single scored the third run.
The Travels picked up their fourth run on a solo homer in the fifth by leadoff man Jose Cruz.

Teams With Best Records Will Meet

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The two teams with the best records in the American League begin a three-game series to night... but it's only crucial to one of them.
The Baltimore Orioles, run-way leaders by 15 games in the AL East after thrashing Kansas City 10-2 Thursday night, entertain the Minnesota Twins, whose lead over Oakland in the AL West was sliced to two games when they bowed to Detroit 6-4.
"We're still playing against the East Division," said Manager Earl Weaver, whose Orioles have a 76-34 mark, 8 1/2 games better than Minnesota's 68-43. "If they (the Twins) were in our division, or if there were no divisional play this year, it would be a crucial series."
"It's important that we win every game we play, but I don't look on this as a big series. As far as I'm concerned, I'm still looking at Detroit, even though we want to beat Minnesota."
Elsewhere in the AL, Oakland blanked Cleveland 3-0 and Boston rallied to edge Seattle 5-4. California, Chicago, New York and Washington were not scheduled.
In the only National League contests, Los Angeles shut out Pittsburgh 6-0 and St. Louis edged San Diego 2-1.
The big men for the Orioles were Boog Powell, who drove in four runs with his 30th homer and a single to tie Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for the major league RBI lead at 101, and Dave McNally, who hurled a five-hitter and belted a two-run homer. Brooks Robinson also homered for the Birds and Ellie Hendricks knocked in three runs.
It was McNally's first appearance since his 17-game winning streak—including a record-tying 15 this season—was snapped last Sunday. Someone jokingly asked him how it felt to win one in a row.
"It's better than losing two in a row," he replied.
It marked the 11th consecutive time the Orioles whipped the Royals after dropping the season's first meeting.

Mississippi Golf Loan Withdrawn

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has suspended loan guarantees for an all-white golf club in Mississippi while seeking assurances the golf course built with the money will not be segregated.
And eight Negro congressmen who requested the action have asked that the move become the first stage of a wide-ranging review of the federal program which has subsidized the construction of about 500 golf courses since 1962.
Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich., said a conference with officials of the Agriculture Department's Farm Home Administration convinced him "they're quite upset by the whole matter."
"There is considerable controversy over loans of this type," said Diggs.
"There is serious doubt that Congress ever intended finances of this type to be used in this area. I would suspect that this case would strengthen the hand of those who want to overhaul it."
"What we are doing is getting a reaffirmation of Title VI (of the Civil Rights Act) certification," said a spokesman for Farm Home Administrator James V. Smith Thursday.
Diggs conferred with Smith Wednesday on behalf of the eight congressmen. They sent a telegram to Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin Thursday asking that he initiate a review of the entire recreation loan program administered by the department.

Story About Injuries to Quarterbacks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the tale of two quarterbacks and their injuries—real and imagined.
Daryle Lamonica, who has led the Oakland Raiders to consecutive Western Division championships, has a sore passing hand. Denver's Marlin Briscoe, who became the first Negro quarterback in the American Football League, last season, is just plain sore.
Lamonica, who injured his right hand in last weekend's exhibition opener against Kansas City, threw well in the Raiders' workout at their Santa Rosa, Calif. training camp Thursday.
"The hand is okay now," he said. "It had been a little tender."
Lamonica will start for Oakland against the Baltimore Colts Saturday night. Briscoe, on the other hand, won't be working for Denver in the Broncos' game against Minnesota.
The Broncos placed their unsigned quarterback on the waived-injured list earlier this week—a step that didn't sit too well with Briscoe. That's because he says he's not injured.
"I wasn't wanted," said Briscoe. "They intended to use Pete Liske as their No. 1 quarterback and Steve Tensi as the backup man."
Briscoe said he considered himself a free agent—a step that didn't sit too well with Lou Saban, general manager and coach of the Broncos.

THE FIRST TIME

The kid's father was a big guy, well over 6 feet, with wavy, dark blond hair, a white smile and large, brambly hands.
Johnny Unitas remembers his father's hands, covered with coal dust, and the wet cake of Lava soap on the bathroom sink. Driving a coal truck in Pittsburgh and shoveling coal down a chute into somebody's basement was a black business. He left liquid streaks of coal on the soap.
There was a time when Francis Joseph Unitas was a legitimate major league baseball prospect, but one day a crate fell on his foot while he was unloading a milk truck and that prospect was squashed. He remained, however, a sports enthusiast.
The kid remembers seeing his dad sprawl on the living room floor of their home on Fortuna Avenue, listening to the Pirates game on radio.
"I was five years old when he brought it home from work with him," recalls John Unitas. "My first football. It's very vivid to me. He rolled it to me, wobbling. It was too big for me to grip, so I sort of held it with both hands and pushed it back at him—my first pass."
"Then my two older brothers took it away from me and ran outside into the street. I watched out a window and they started kicking it back and forth to each other. The thing burst and I cried like a little baby... which I was."
"My father died right after that. My mother tried to keep the coal business going, but I know I was 10 or 11 before I got another one. We played football with everything from tennis balls to rolled-up magazines. One time we had an old ball with no bladder, but we stuffed it with newspapers and used it, anyway."
"Our house was half brick and half wood and had a front porch with a swing on it. I'd climb up in it and swing for hours. We had a big back yard where we played and kept our rabbits. We always had a lot of white rabbits. I think we must have had rabbit for dinner every Sunday."
"You hold them up by their ears and crack them behind the neck with the side of your hand. A rabbit punch. Then you take the skin and salt it down which starts a tanning process."
"I must have been the only kid in town with a white bicycle seat."

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Vital to Learn Cause Of Fainting Spells
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am a housewife, 56. About once a month I feel faint for three or four minutes. This may happen several times a day. Some of my friends have this, too. What could cause it?
A—Feeling faint is the result of insufficient blood reaching your brain. This may be caused by getting up suddenly from lying down, especially in persons whose circulation is poor; emotional upsets, or prolonged standing in one position, especially in a warm room or in the sun.
When you feel faint you should lie down at once, or sit down and put your head between your knees to prevent passing out and falling. If you do lose consciousness for anemia. In most chronic conditions, treatment must be continued until maximum improvement is obtained. This may be weeks or years. Vitamin B-12 is available in tablets.

Q—What is von Willebrand's disease? Is it hereditary and is it fatal?
A—This is a hereditary disease in which the victim may have severe bleeding from the gums, nose or other areas. It is sometimes called pseudohemophilia but unlike hemophilia, it affects girls as well as boys. It is more closely related to purpura but unlike this disease, it is not associated with a deficiency of blood platelets. If the victim is given plasma by vein, a complete cure gradually occurs. Thus, if properly treated, the disease is not fatal.
Q—Could the continued use of aspirin cause baldness?
A—No. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY: The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.
1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.
The opposition line: 1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers. 1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph. 1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury. 1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J. L. Tullis, and Col. W. W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916. 1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald—but both papers suspended in 1922. 1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review. 1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press. 1929—C. E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer. 1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president. 1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president—balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

QUICK QUIZ

BLONDIE

Q—Upon what unit of length is the metric system based?
A—The meter. It is one-millionth of a longitudinal line from the North Pole to the Equator. In customary terms, this is about 39.37 inches, a little over a yard.
Q—Which U.S. president started the precedent of not attending the inauguration of his successor?
A—John Adams, who absented himself rather than witness the inauguration of Thomas Jefferson. Other presidents have followed his example.

CLOSEUP OF MARS

The photographic exploration of earth's red neighbor is causing almost as much excitement among space experts as the landing on the moon. Photo of Mars at right, taken by Mariner 6, is described as "one of the truly striking and inspiring space pictures of this decade." Large crater measures 24 miles. View below, taken at a distance of 2,150 miles, shows crater-pocked surface similar to moon's. Immediately below is a photo of the moon taken in 1967 by Lunar Orbiter 4 at distance of 2,180 miles.

MINISKIRTED ARMY is one of Israel's aces in the Mideast's deadly poker game. Girl troopers lined up for inspection are all business. They are part of the defense force at a new youth settlement near El-Arish, in the occupied Sinai.

SNEAKER-CLAD SAILORS on the Argentine naval training ship Libertad scramble up the rigging as the vessel enters New York harbor. The Libertad reportedly is the largest sailing ship still in service anywhere in the world.

The latest Mars photos are a great improvement over those taken by Mariner 4 on the first Mars fly-by in 1965. One of the best, above, was taken at a distance of 7,800 miles. Although the photo evidence appears grim, space experts caution that the final report on life on Mars must await a manned landing. The earth itself did not look so inviting in its first photographs from space. Photo at right, showing the Himalayas, was taken by astronaut Gordon Cooper on his 1963 Mercury 9 flight.

The Hands Had It

"WHAT'S SHE GOT that I haven't got?" Somehow, "Fido's" lines are not as artistic as the marble statue in a garden at Beirut, Lebanon.

on President Nixon's world tour. At every stop along the way, a forest of hands reached out to greet the American President. Right, a long reach with U.S. troops at Di An, South Vietnam. Left, Little Leaguers in Bangkok. Below, hands across the Iron Curtain in Bucharest ... among old friends at Mildenhall, England ... back home and still shaking at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

STILL WORKING at 91, Juliana Baker got a rest recently when it rained on her 45-acre farm near Blanchardville, Wis.

THUNDERING HERD is a new tactic used in India to break through a police cordon. Demonstrators cheer as stampeding water buffaloes cause police to give way.

MOON SHINES over Thule Air Base in Greenland and somehow it doesn't seem as far away as it used to before Apollo 11. Aerospace Defense Command (ADC) personnel stationed at Thule, 690 miles north of the Arctic Circle, maintain a constant vigil, watching space for any enemy missile threats.

What the Editor Said; and an Ode to Grandma

Our Arkansas Press Association bulletin is circulating this reprint from the Springfield News:

While on the subject of reader opinions, here's what another editor had to say in reply to questions from the public:

Q. Why do you have all those misprints?

A. They're the most entertaining part of the entire paper.

Q. Why do you always say "we" when referring to yourself in the paper?

A. We want our readers to think they're outnumbered.

Q. Why do you make so many grammatical mistakes?

A. Cause we ain't never learned no better.

Q. What do you do with all your money?

A. We squander it on frivolities, like food and clothing.

Q. Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the City Council what they can do to improve the town?

A. Why don't you go down to the next meeting and tell 'em yourself?

And from Mrs. J. Manuel Hamm I get the following clipping from the Bandera (Texas) Bulletin, author unknown:

MOTHER GOOSE had nothing to do with this house although it does remind one of "the old woman who lived in a shoe." Actually, it's the home and studio of Christ Roberts, one of the most imaginative houseboat designers in Sausalito, Calif., where hundreds of striking new homes have appeared on the water in recent years.

Controversial Germ, Chemical Warfare Is Hush-Hush as A-Bomb

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With weapons seen and unseen, the United States has been preparing secretly during this decade for a kind of war where chemicals and germs kill man, his animals and crops.

This chemical biological warfare—CBW—effort is expensive, controversial—and becoming more so—and almost as hush-hush as the development of the atomic bomb in 1945.

Budget figures have been classified, but an AP examination indicates the CBW program has consumed about $2.5 billion since 1960 with little debate in Congress.

Some 5,000 technicians are involved in a network of military labs, arsenals and test areas across the country, busily researching, developing and laying away or maintaining ready production lines for gas and germ weapons.

Size of the U.S. stockpile is secret but appears to encompass millions of pounds of agents ranging from relatively mild CS tear gas—used in Vietnam—to poisonous GA, GB and V nerve agents—orderless, tasteless, invisible kill-in-seconds materials.

Biological or germ weapons can't be stored for more than a few days before their living payloads become sterile, but the Pentagon keeps a pilot production line at Pine Bluff, Ark., prepared to crank out weapons upon hours notice.

Virtually any piece of military ordnance, from missiles to grenades, can be packed with deadly gases.

Laird says the United States cannot turn to its nuclear missiles to deter a chemical or biological attack because that "would engage us in a much larger exchange."

The U.S. chemical biological program is under review within the government and under attack from without. Recent incidents involving the military's experiments, stocking and disposal of CBW agents have increased public and congressional concern.

Last year, an aircraft laid down a cloud of nerve gas that missed its test zone at Dugway Proving Ground in Utah, killing thousands of sheep on a nearby ranch. The Army, insisting to the last that it couldn't connect the deaths to its nerve gas test, nonetheless paid damages to the ranch.

Later came disclosure that the Army proposed shipping 27,000 tons of surplus mustard and nerve gas cross-country

Youth Auto Program Is Planned Here

The Agricultural Extension Service of Hempstead County, in cooperation with the Arkansas State Police and other individuals and organizations, is sponsoring a Youth Automotive Program.

Four separate sessions will make up the program. They are as follows:

Tuesday, August 12 — Highway Safety with Trooper Ray Davis, Safety Division of the Arkansas State Police in charge.

Tuesday, August 19 — The engine in general will be discussed by Mr. Barry Hill, Hope Auto Company Inc.

Tuesday, August 26 — Traffic Code and Your Future Responsibilities. These topics to be discussed by Hope Municipal Judge John L. Wilson and by Mr. George Frazier, Anderson Frazier Insurance Agency Inc.

Tuesday, September 2 — Car Inspection, Safety Checking a car will be conducted by Sgt. Dean Friend, Motor Vehicle Inspection Division of the Arkansas State Police.

These five outstanding speakers have planned their sessions to be brief, informative, and interesting.

All youth, both boys and girls, 12 years and older should be interested in these meetings. They are also planned so that adults can attend and enjoy them.

The program each evening will start at 7 p.m. at the Coliseum of the Third District Livestock Show at Hope.

Appropriate door prizes have been obtained and will be drawn for each night. Those attending will be eligible for the prizes.

Why not make plans now for attending the first meeting on August 12.

Firestone Tire and Rubber Company is the national sponsor of the Youth Automotive Program.

Nixon Will Ask Change in Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon in his speech to the nation tonight is expected to propose a replacement for the U.S. welfare system, including a guaranteed income and incentives to get people off welfare and into jobs.

The President also reportedly will announce a shift in the federal antipoverty program from community action to developing new job opportunities.

The address, to be carried by radio and television, is scheduled for 10 p.m. EDT.

Executive branch and Capitol Hill sources say the President will ask Congress to:

— Guarantee an income of $1,500 a year to the average family of four. This would pioneer payments to wage earners who make below subsistence salaries.

— Take Washington out of job training. The 30-odd counseling, recruitment and training programs would be consolidated and funded by block grants.

— Give states an automatic share of federal tax revenues, about $1 billion the first year.

— Impose a federally-financed minimum of about $30 a month for each of the 6.5 million persons who receive aid to dependent children, the largest and most costly welfare program.

— Provide a minimum benefit of $50 a month in all adult welfare programs such as old-age assistance and aid to the blind and disabled. The federal payment would supplement the present sliding scale. The present share is around $40 and all but seven states now pay average benefits over $50.

Bodcaw Sets First Election for August 12

Bodcaw, which incorporated on May 22 when the order was signed by Judge Ralph Barnes, will hold its first election on August 12.

J.W. May is running for mayor; Austin V. Caudle, recorder and Aldermen Clifton Butler, K.K. Mitchell, Baker Butler, Le-on Harrison and Jackie Porter.

Following the election a census will be taken. The purpose is for the corporation to receive its share of state turnback money provided it passes a five mill property tax.

Welfare Folks Are Cautioned

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Jefferson County Welfare Department has cautioned welfare recipients against giving money to persons claiming to be welfare workers.

The warning came after two welfare recipients reported that a woman posing as a welfare worker tried to get them to pay $100 in cash to her.

The woman purporting to be a welfare worker said such payments had to be made or the homes of the welfare clients would be condemned.

Withdrawals Fail to Cut Down the Troop Strength in Vietnam Heaviest War Action in 2 Months

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The heaviest action in nearly two months was reported across South Vietnam Thursday. But U.S. military spokesmen said it was too early to tell whether it was only a brief break in the war lull or the prelude to renewal of major enemy operations.

More enemy and allied casualties were reported since midnight Wednesday than in any such period since June 18, when the current lull in major sustained ground fighting began.

Allied communiques reported a sharp increase in ground fighting just south of the demilitarized zone, in the coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, in the Central Highlands, and in War Zone D northeast of Saigon.

Along with this, the Viet Cong on Thursday made the biggest terror attack in Saigon since the lull began and a commando squad successfully invaded a U.S. convalescent hospital at Cam Ranh Bay. These two attacks accounted for 14 persons dead and 160 wounded, as well as heavy damages, according to revised casualty figures released by the U.S. Command.

Allied military spokesmen reported at least 147 enemy soldiers killed in ground actions since midnight Wednesday. Allied losses were put at 14 Americans killed and 164 wounded, 51 wounded and one missing, and 14 Vietnamese civilians killed and nine wounded.

But a spokesman for the U.S. Command said the sharp increase in ground fighting "is not necessarily an indication of in-

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. troop strength in Vietnam, despite the announced withdrawal of 25,000 men, continues to rise and now stands at 4,500 more than when President Nixon took office, say two Senate war critics.

"Apparently we're going in the wrong direction," Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., told the Senate.

"Why is it," asked Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., "in view of the announced withdrawal of troops we have more troops in Vietnam today?"

A week ago Gore presented similar figures and the Pentagon explained troop strength would start to decline in early August and would reach 515,000 by the end of August, as stated after Nixon's June announcement.

Gore presented figures showing troop strength Aug. 2 of 537,000 compared with 536,000 a See WITHDRAWALS (on page two)

Secrecy Still Shrouds Green Beret Incident

By GEORGE McARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Military sources hinted today that if the former Green Beret commander in Vietnam is brought to trial, at least part of the hearing may be behind closed doors because cloak-and-dagger secrets are involved.

These guarded hints from ranking officers at U.S. headquarters deepened the mystery around the murder and conspiracy charges against Col. Robert B. Rheault and seven subordinates, including three intelligence specialists.

Since the Army revealed the charges Wednesday, an absolute information blackout has enveloped the sensational case—the first such charges against an officer of Rheault's rank since the Uniform Code of Military Justice went into effect after World War II.

Far-out speculation was heightened by the extreme secrecy, the involvement of the elite counter-insurgency forces who specialize in clandestine warfare, and the refusal of American and South Viet-

House Gives Tax Reform Bill Big Vote

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House gave its huge tax reform and relief bill a big sendoff by passing the measure 394-30, but the legislation was destined for a cautious reception in the Senate.

The Senate Finance Committee will give the bill a careful going over and plans to hear more than 100 witnesses, largely speaking for interests which face higher taxes if it becomes law.

These hearings won't start until after Congress returns Sept. 3 from its summer recess, and the committee work may run almost two months.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., has promised to try to complete committee action by Oct. 31.

The bill passed Thursday by the House was the most thorough tax code revision in a generation.

It tightens the law in 27 different areas to produce ultimately $6.8 billion in additional revenue and would provide eventual tax relief calculated at $9.2 billion for all but the highest income brackets.

By 1972, the bill's sponsors say, a family of four making $3,500 and taxed $70 would pay no tax; one receiving $7,500 would pay about $110 less than at present.

The greatest proportion of savings would be at the low end of the income scale and for widows, widowers and single sons 35 and older.

Table Shows How Tax Reform Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — The following tables, by the House Ways and Means Committee, show tax savings that could be provided for various classes of taxpayers if the tax reform bill were enacted and fully in effect — in 1972 and thereafter. In general, standard deductions are assumed. The income tax surcharge is not included.
